

Important Notice: Beware of Suspicious Emails Impersonating Our Employees

We have received reports of suspicious emails being sent by individuals impersonating our employees to place fraudulent product orders.

Please exercise caution if you receive any emails claiming to be from our company, especially if they exhibit the following characteristics:

- The sender's email domain is not official.
 - Our official domain is "@nyk.jp".
 - Please be wary of addresses that are slightly altered (e.g., changing a single character or symbol) or addresses that have additional characters before or after the domain.
- The order is for an unusually large quantity of products that are inconsistent with past transaction history.
- The email contains suspicious URLs or attachments.
